EAJ, European Actuarial Journal Congress Lisboa, Announcement

EAJ Lisboa 2020 --> EAJ Lisboa 2021

Due to the uncertainty of the situation caused by COVID 19 virus, the Organising Committee decided to call off the 2020 meeting and make it "EAJ Lisboa 2021". It will be at the same site, ISEG, in the same second week of September, we hope to confirm soon the dates 8-9 September. All information will be at the conference webpage.

The University completely called off the semester on location, teaching exams are to be run online only. At least until summer holidays it will be difficult to have normal activities on campus. Almost all people are doing their jobs from home, lecturers are teaching and working online which have brought new challenges occupying extra time. Also, we don't know when academics and researchers will be able allowed travel normally.

Besides, no one knows how our "after crisis" period will be like, when can we re-start travelling, meeting normally, having crowds in conferences, etc.

We are sad, but we decided it would be wiser to postpone the conference to 2021, and probably transfer all important dates and deadlines to 2021, accordingly. All information will be put available soon at our webpage.

Important dates and deadlines are: Abstract submission: 10/05/2021; Abstract Acceptance: 01/06/2021; Publication of Abstracts in website: 03/06/2021; Early Bird Registration Fee 30/06/2021.
